

EHR Results Delivery

Receive real-time patient results directly in your EHR

With EHR Results Delivery, clinical teams can access the most updated test results, imaging, notes and patient information at the point of care.

Having access to patient results at the point of care — without having to log into a separate system or reaching out via fax, email, phone — saves valuable time and resources. EHR Results Delivery integrates directly and securely with your electronic health record (EHR) system to seamlessly deliver patient results with minimal impact on your workflow.

Results available through the CORHIO network:

- Laboratory and pathology results
- Imaging and radiology reports and image links
- Transcription notes
- Admission, discharge, transfer information

Increase access to more patient results from outside your network while lowering administrative time spent chasing down patient information.

Integrated with Your Workflow and EHR

Eliminate faxes, emails and phone calls to obtain results that need to be added to the patient's medical record. CORHIO interfaces with many of the most commonly used EHR vendors.

Real-Time Results

Having real-time results ensures your practice has complete patient information right at the point of care.

Customizable Configuration

You can customize the information you receive in your EHR by choosing which hospitals and labs to receive results from and how the results appear in your system. The CORHIO team can work with you to best meet your practice's specific needs.

"The CORHIO interface is awesome! We receive records every day from various hospitals directly into our patient charts and they're reviewed by my providers that same day. This saves hours of time. Before CORHIO, we were faxing, logging into hospital systems, printing and scanning into our patient chart. This has all been eliminated."

Stephanie Elliott, Practice Manager, Complete Family Medicine
